Overview

- Blip is simple.
- Blip rewards peers with experiences.
- Each experience is unique to the user.
- Experiences can reward in multiple ways.
- When permitted, BlipFests follow.

Long-term goal

- Our goal is to reward users:
 - Using decentralized processes
 - Allowing a non-fiat source of income
 - Interactive solo and group experiences
- The plan is simple:
 - Gain a user base willing to buy and sell
 - Allow the user base to trade BPCN for experiences
 - Get enough positive feedback to grow the community larger

The Present Situation

- The coin has been listed and has been gaining value since day one.
- What we are needing to do now is increase user base to get more experiences to more people.
- Spreading knowledge of the content related to the project is key.
- Different forms of advertising are the next step.

Development up to present

- Developments in code:
 - Core network and basic amenities
- Blip became a 15 person core team unit with hundreds of thousands of possible employable candidates.
- The price rise so quickly was not expected and has been accounted for in pricing.
- Blip is slowly becoming a reality for people to experience.

Potential Alternative

- This could be done with Bitcoin, a well established and accredited coin. Though the price of Bitcoin and the lack of interest occurring on an account are potential drawbacks.

Current Roadmap

- Gain larger user base.
- Update website.
- Blip it.
